IMPORTANT POINTS

Mining is competitive. You're racing against other miners worldwide.

Mining rewards are halved every 4 years (next halving in 2028).

Profit depends on hardware efficiency, electricity cost, and Bitcoin price.

In India, mining is legal, but earnings are taxable.

VISION

We envision a world where users transition seamlessly from Web2 to Web3 - where the digital experiences they love are elevated by the transparency, security, and sovereignty of blockchain technology. Finexa is designed to serve as this bridge, making the future of the internet accessible, engaging, and empowering for all.

MISSION

To reclaim digital freedom by building a platform where expression is permanent, data is personal, and community is powerful. Finexa is dismantling the walls of centralized censorship and empowering creators, thinkers, and rebels to unite on an unbreakable, decentralized network.

WHAT IS BITCOIN MINING ?

Bitcoin mining is the process by which new bitcoins are created and transactions on the Bitcoin network are verified. It involves solving complex mathematical problems using powerful computers. The first miner to solve the problem adds a new block of transactions to the blockchain and receives a reward in the form of newly generated bitcoins and transaction fees.

“Powering the future of decentralized finance, one block at a time.”

HOW IT WORKS SIMPLIFIED ...

1

Transactions are grouped into a "block."

2

Miners compete to solve a cryptographic puzzle (a process called Proof of Work).

3

The first miner to solve the puzzle gets to add the block to the blockchain.

4

That miner earns a reward: currently 3.125 BTC per block (after the 2024 halving).

5

The mining cycle repeats about every 10 minutes.

This becomes possible by solving complex puzzles using powerful computers.

Mining not only secures the Bitcoin network but also helps maintain its decentralized nature. It ensures no single entity controls the system.
